

Thank you for reviewing Deathmancer

Your time, table space, photos, play notes and honest reaction genuinely matter.

Thank you for taking the time to learn the game, play it, and share your experience online. I know the time, effort and heart that goes into making good review content, so I really do value you giving Deathmancer that attention.

Prototype art and photography

Some cards still use prototype artwork with a watermark. Glen has not yet had the time or budget to finish every illustration before launch, and we are keeping the final game human-led and artist-made rather than filling gaps with throwaway art.

- Please do not judge the visual target too harshly from unfinished pieces; the finished art examples show where the final game is heading.
- If possible, avoid making incomplete pieces the focus of key photography. They do not need to be hidden, just ideally not the main shot.

Rules and table tools

- Solo rules are not in the printed leaflet. They are available from the Solobook button at deathmancer.com.
- 3-4 player games require the Gatekeeper and Chronos expansion decks.
- The player card QR links to the scorekeeper. The website also has video/media guides; pen and paper works perfectly too.
- Questions are very welcome - contact@deathmancer.com.

Prototype balance notes

- Bane has a very strong Balthazar combo. If it becomes problematic, clarify that Bane affects Heroes only, not Legendary Heroes/Commanders.
- Inversion is a new card type. For first games, remove it. If testing later, try +1.0 multiplier / +6 score (Archimedes / Balthazar), and vice versa.

Final production quality

Core Game

- 310gsm black core, linen-finish cards, rounded corners and FSC-certified materials.
- Premium telescoping box with matte lamination and gold foil Deathmancer logo/emblem.
- 2 thick punch-card sheets with 8 damage tokens, full-colour folded rule leaflet and shrink wrap.

Deluxe Edition Additions

- Additional 56-card Gatekeeper and Chronos playable decks for 3-4 players, using the same premium card stock.
- Larger FSC box with matte finish, gold foil logo/emblem and custom insert/tray.
- 48-page full-colour A5 art and lore book, plus 6 premium A6 character art prints.
- Custom 16mm engraved resin Deathmancer D6 and full-colour 2mm neoprene playmat with rubber backing and stitched edges.
- Damage token punch cards included.

Prototype note

The review copy is intended to demonstrate the gameplay and visual design. Final production materials and finishes will be upgraded to the specifications above.

Thank you again - I really appreciate it.

Whether you post a full review, first impressions, photos, or just private feedback, it all helps shape the game and get Deathmancer in front of the right people.
