

KICKSTARTER

THANK YOU FOR PLAYING DEATHMANCER

A note for reviewers, previewers, photographers and first necromancers.

Dear Player,

Thank you very much for choosing to spend your valuable time and creative talents reviewing and showcasing Deathmancer - we really appreciate it! Sending a prototype into someone else's hands is exciting, nerve-wracking and meaningful, so I really do appreciate you learning the game, playing it properly, photographing it and sharing your thoughts online.

A showcase, first impressions piece, review, playthrough or BoardGameGeek review would help enormously. Deathmancer is on BGG, with the link below.

PROTOTYPE ART

Some cards still carry prototype artwork and watermarking. Glen has not yet had the time or finances to finish every illustration before launch, and we are choosing to keep the final game entirely artist-made.

Please use the finished pieces as the best indication of the final visual target. If possible, I would be grateful if incomplete pieces were not the main focus of key photographs. They do not need to be hidden; I would just rather the strongest images lead the story.

RULES AND SUPPORT

Please note that single-player rules are available from the 'Solobook' button at deathmancer.com. I'm really proud of the solo game - I think it's fun and thematic, but there's not enough space to print in this first prototype box. I hope you solo adventurers enjoy!

Finally, please note that the final game will allow for three and four player options, albeit this requires The Gatekeeper and Chronos commander expansion decks - coming soon.

The player card QR links to the scorekeeper, and the website has media/how-to material for convenience. Questions are very welcome by Deathmancer Instagram DM, or by email at joe@deathmancer.com.

PROTOTYPE BALANCE

Bane has a strong Balthazar interaction that I will leave you to discover :). If it starts taking over, treat Bane as applying to Heroes only, not Legendary Heroes or Commanders.

Inversion is probably too swingy in this prototype. For first games, remove it. If testing later, try +1.0 multiplier / +6 score for Archimedes / Balthazar, and vice versa.

PROTOTYPE TO PRODUCTION

Ivory Graphics, our UK prototype printer, has done a lovely job getting this first physical version into the world. The prototype is here to show the gameplay rhythm, table feel and visual direction. For final production, we are planning more premium and properly deluxe treatments.

FINAL PRODUCTION TARGET

Core Game: 310gsm black core cards, linen finish, rounded corners, FSC-certified materials, premium telescoping box with matte lamination and gold foil logo/emblem, 2 punch-card sheets with 8 damage tokens, larger full-colour folded rule leaflet, and shrink wrap.

Deluxe Edition: Gatekeeper and Chronos expansion decks for 3-4 players, matching premium card stock, larger FSC box with custom insert, 48-page A5 art and lore book, 6 A6 character art prints, engraved resin D6, stitched neoprene playmat, and damage token punch cards.

This prototype copy is intended to demonstrate gameplay and visual design - and to have fun with this exclusive first look at the game!

Thank you again for putting your time, care and creativity into this early version of the game. Showcases, reviews and word of mouth at this stage really can make a difference in our journey. I'm really grateful for the craft that goes into doing that well!

WITH THANKS,
JOE GREEN
